Pen In Hand

As a volunteer, I come to work.
A Riddle Gal will never Shirk.
Behind the desk as chief cashier,
To handle this, I had not fear...
But all new numbers on the tags
Are copies, punched, taped and tagged.
My nerves were shot. "Alas," I said
"I'd rather check, or mark in red."
But a job that keeps you on your toes,
Makes working fun, among old clothes.
